

No. 1 Boy Hopes Spotlight Won't Change Vonda

NEW YORK (AP) — A strenuous and glamorous year lay ahead today for Vonda Kay Van Dyke, the new Miss America, but Vonda isn't sure whether she has awakened yet from a dream.

As the newly crowned beauty queen awaited her first meeting with the New York press, her boy friend in Phoenix, Ariz., was hoping that Vonda's year in the spotlight would not change their lives.

Vonda left Atlantic City Sunday, still tearful and wonder-struck by her victory in the nation's oldest beauty pageant Saturday night.

Like A Dream
The 21-year-old brunette, her brown eyes glistening as she dabbed them with a tissue described the dreamlike quality of her coronation.

"After making the walk back and forth on the runway, I started up the steps to the chair. I thought that when I got up there, I would put out my hand and it would not be there," she said.

In Phoenix Duane Kapp, 22, a law student at the University of Arizona, was "not too sure what this is going to mean for the two of us."

"I don't quite know how to react, but I know I feel unhappy for myself," he said after Miss Arizona's crowning. "There's a chance this may affect her life, and if this happens I know she won't be the girl I knew and the girl I loved."

College Postponed
Vonda and young Kapp have known each other six years. While they had made no definite plans, marriage "was one of those things we knew would be in the future," he said.

Vonda's immediate future involves a month here posing for pictures and being fitted out with a wardrobe.

A senior at Arizona State University, she will postpone her final year of college until after she tours as Miss America.

First prize in the pageant brought her a $10,000 scholarship and an estimated $80,000 in personal appearance contracts. Another $1,000 scholarship came with her selection by the other 49 girls as the pageant's Miss Congeniality — the first time that a Miss America had won the popularity contest.

Sen. Goldwater Takes Campaign Into Southland

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater marches his Republican campaign for the White House into the traditionally Democratic South Tuesday.

The Arizona senator — who has declared that "no Republican can do anything against Johnson without the support of the South" — sets out to convert the old Confederacy with appearances in eight Southern states.

If the second week of his presidential campaign is anything like the first, Goldwater will swing freely and hard at President Johnson and pump the voters' hands in a style that at first surprised even his closest admirers.

Plays To Big Crowds
Goldwater played to his biggest and most enthusiastic crowds in Los Angeles, Seattle, Wash., Boise, Idaho, and Minneapolis, Minn., last week during the opening chapter of his race for the presidency.

The sharpest charges came in the prepared speeches he delivered at Seattle and Minneapolis, his major promise — a five-year, 25 per cent tax cut, in a speech before more than 53,000 people in Los Angeles.

Goldwater stressed these charges:
—That the Democrats have timed foreign crises to make political hay at home, and may do it again. "Americans must be prepared, under such an administration to be faced by crisis of some sort just before an election," he told an overflow crowd in Seattle.
—That dangerous powers are

Congress Windup Date Up In Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress tackles Social Security health care and legislative reapportionment this week as members up for re-election fidget to get on the campaign trail.

Neither issue is likely to be disposed of finally during the week and Congress' adjournment date still is up in the air.

The issue of health care for the aged is the only major legislative business before the House this week.

After preliminary parliamentary moves today, members are expected to vote Thursday whether to arrange a conference with the Senate, which added the hospitalization feature to a Social Security bill passed by the House.

Knife-Wielding Bandit Robs Muskegon Club

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (AP) — The robbery of some $4,000 — about $3,200 in cash — from a private club by a knife-wielding bandit was under investigation in this Muskegon suburb today.

Democrats Are Warned Not To Be Too Sure

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey steered his Johnson-Humphrey campaign back into the Midwest today, warning Democrats not to be so sure of victory they forget Harry S. Truman's upset triumph in 1948.

Pressing his barnstorming attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater, Humphrey declared: "It is a depressing thought, but the temporary spokesman for the Republican party could be — despite himself — the president of the United States."

"But only if we let him," the Democratic vice-presidential nominee added in remarks prepared for a downtown street rally.

Democrats have been buoyed by polls forecasting a November victory. But, Humphrey recalled, "Truman went to bed on election night — by verdict of every public opinion poll and certain well-known commentators — a rejected and defeated man."

Democrats, he said, should take Truman's 1948 victory as a "solemn warning never to let ourselves fall victim to complacency."

Campaigning in New Mexico Sunday Humphrey charged that Goldwater was "playing on the emotions of the American people" in the race issue.

Ford Contract Talks Started

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union is expected to begin in earnest today its attempt to piece together at Ford Motor Co. a contract similar to that won at Chrysler Corp. last week.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Ford Vice President Malcolm Denise were expected to head the bargaining teams.

Negotiators at Chrysler continued to work on details of a new agreement — in principle for 74,000 hourly workers there. The UAW estimated the new three-year agreement is worth 54 cents an hour over its life.

At Ford, an unusual Sunday meeting recessed after an hour, and a company spokesman said no effort was made during the session to tailor the Chrysler settlement to Ford.

He said the talks concerned primarily grievance procedures and other non-economic areas. And he disclosed that some 15 of Ford's 90 separate UAW bargaining units have reached supplementary at-the-plant working agreements with the company.

In its 54-cent gain at Chrysler, the union includes costs of a possible maximum pension of $400 a month for workers retiring at age 60 and other fringe improvements.

Airplane Ride Kills Babysitter And 2 Little Boys

PONTIAC (AP) — A 22-year-old babysitter planned Sunday to take her two young charges to the Detroit Zoo, but changed her mind in order to treat them to an airplane ride.

All three were killed in a fiery crash near Pontiac. Officials at Pontiac Municipal Airport said the four-seat private plane was coming in for an emergency landing after the pilot radioed that the craft was ailing.

Killed were Judith Ann Korytkowski, of Detroit, who would have registered today as a junior for the fall semester at the University of Detroit, Jeffrey Phillipart, 5, and his four-year-old brother Gregory.

The boys were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Phillipart Jr. of Detroit.

Piloting the craft was Roy S. McPhail, 26, also of Detroit. McPhail was reported in critical condition with burns in a Pontiac hospital.

Police said the pilot was thrown from the plane when it crashed, but the others were trapped in the flaming wreckage. The crash occurred in the Pontiac Lake State Park, about one-half mile from the airport. The boys' parents said Miss Korytkowski left for the zoo with the two children, but later phoned to say that they were going instead for a ride in the plane owned by McPhail's father and another man.

Farm Fire Fatal To 10 Children

KASOTA, Minn. (AP) — Ten children, "so scared they ran around in circles and didn't know what to do," died in a fire that swept through their farm home.

Another child, Joanne McConnell, 14, was the only occupant to escape the burning home Saturday night. She jumped from a second-story window and, barefoot and wearing only a nightgown, pedaled a mile on her bicycle to the nearest telephone.

Joanne and nine of the victims were children and stepchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowdish. The other child killed was an orphan boy who lived with the family.

Bowdish is an unemployed auto mechanic.

Mrs. and Mrs. Bowdish were not home when the fire broke out. They had driven to Minneapolis to pick up some appliances which friends had given them.

The victims were Daniel Bowdish, 3; Loretta Bowdish, 4; Lucetta Bowdish, 5; Kenneth Bowdish, 6; Linda McConnell, 9; Marvin McConnell, 10; Richard McConnell, 11; Mary McConnell, 13; Robert McConnell, 16, and Roger Brown, 15. The McConnell youngsters were Mrs. Bowdish's children by a previous marriage.

"It's no one's fault," the weeping mother told Joanne. "Just be thankful you got out. It was meant to happen, or it wouldn't have happened."

Joanne said all the children except Robert were in bed when the blaze broke out.

Soldier Is Hero In Berlin Wall Gunfire Escape

BERLIN (AP) — A German immigrant now in the U.S. Army braved East German bullets Sunday to help a wounded refugee escape over the Berlin wall.

Spec. 4 Hans Puhl, 22, was the hero of a 40-minute battle at dawn during which West Berlin police and East German Communist guards fired dozens of shots at each other. No one was killed, but it was the longest fight since the wall was put up three years ago.

Lying in the middle of the fray, on the Communist side of the wall, was Michael Meyer, 21, from the East German town of Fredersdorf. Communist bullets brought him down as he tried to scramble over the wall to West Berlin.

Grenade Halts Guards
Communist guards then tried to drag him away, but Puhl — covered by Western police — Marched to the wall and ordered the East Germans back.

At a news conference, Puhl said he was riding along the Western side of the wall — in the Kreuzberg District — on a routine patrol with a West Berlin policeman and arrived at the scene just after Meyer had been shot.

The American dashed to the second story of a nearby apartment house for a view of the other side of the wall.

He spotted the young man on the ground.

"Two East German guards were pulling on him," he said. "I pointed my rifle at them and told them to let him go."

"When they did not let him go, I threw a tear gas grenade across the wall in the hope that they would stop bothering the refugee and they did."

Puhl then ran back to the wall, gave his rifle to a West Berlin policeman and pulled out his pistol.

"Two West Berliners boosted me up," he continued, "so that I could see across the wall and I called to the refugee not to move and that we were going to cut the wire (on top of the wall)."

When Puhl peered over the wall, the Communists opened fire, hitting the upper edge of the wall and showering him with concrete fragments.

West Berlin police returned the fire from windows of the apartment house. Two East Germans succeeded in reaching Meyer again. One began pulling the refugee, and the other pointed a pistol at Puhl.

"The American pulled his own pistol from the holster, aimed at the East German and said in German: 'Drop him and get away from here,'" a witness said.

Puhl denied he had pointed his pistol but admitted it was out of its holster.

The East Germans again retreated. As Puhl covered Meyer, two West Berliners got a stepladder and wire cutters. Firemen brought a rope and Puhl dropped it to the wounded man.

"We got the rope on him and pulled him across," Puhl said. "He passed out when we got him over."

Helping Puhl were two West Berliners and an unidentified U.S. Army sergeant.

Five bullets hit Meyer. He was reported recovering from wounds in the thigh and shoulder.

Premier Khanh Retains Shaky Hold On Nation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A bloodless military uprising aimed at ousting Premier Nguyen Khanh collapsed today and Khanh returned securely to power in Saigon. He called for "discipline, honor and unity."

The attempted coup faltered and died less than 24 hours after 2,000 rebel troops marched into Saigon under orders from their dissident commanders to arrest Khanh as a traitor. Not a shot was fired.

Khanh subsequently told a news conference that the chief objective of his government now is to destroy communism, colonialism and neutralism while building through democracy.

Forces Show Unity

The 37-year-old major general, who is in his eighth month as head of South Viet Nam's U.S.-backed government, said he was moved by the spirit of unity shown by the armed forces. He evidently referred to the military leaders who chose to back him in the showdown.

"Facing the threat of internal strife, we proved to be very worthy and we were able to save the precious blood of all our fighters against the Communist Viet Cong," he said.

Khanh was seated at the conference table with the top officers who saved him from ouster. These included the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, who held Saigon airport against the rebels; and the paratroop commander, Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien.

Rebel Chief Absent

Notably absent was Brig. Gen. Duong Van Duc, commander of the rebel forces, who capitulated to Ky early this morning.

Before Khanh met the news, Ky and Duc had shared a news conference and declared their unity in supporting the government and in resuming the fight against the Communist guerrillas.

In Washington, U.S. officials expressed relief that Khanh remained in power but could not say whether the events would bolster or further weaken his shaky hold in the embattled country.

People Remain Sullen

The attempted coup, engineered by a group of dissident generals, was not unexpected. Rumors that Khanh faced a revolt swept the city Saturday.

It came while Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the U.S. ambassador, was out of the country. He returned to the capital early today after four days of talks in Washington during which U.S. officials said they concluded South Viet Nam needs greater political stability to strengthen its war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Throughout the coup attempt, Saigon residents reacted with sullen indifference. Motorists blew their horns angrily at tanks interfering with traffic. Shoppers paid little attention to announcements broadcast from planes with loudspeakers. Even swooping fighter-bombers failed to arouse much interest.

Guns Aimed At Gates

Had the coup succeeded, it would have been the third in less than a year. President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown last Nov. 1, and Khanh took power Jan. 30 from Gen. Duong Van Minh, leader of the anti-Diem uprising. Khanh was nearly driven from office in August and early September by three weeks of violence Buddhist and student-led demonstrations against the government.

The rebels moved into Saigon early Sunday led by Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, a Roman Catholic who was fired as interior minister by Khanh under Buddhist pressure last week. Later, Brig. Gen. Doug Van Duc commander of the Vietnamese army's IV Corps, appeared to take charge of the rebellion.

High point of the uprising came when the rebels seized the joint general staff headquarters. Insurgents aimed guns at the gates and government forces manned rocket launchers on the other side of the compound but did not fire.

Khanh was not in Saigon. He returned to the capital briefly

Hurricane Heads Out Into Ocean

By The Associated Press

Tropical storm Dora headed farther out to sea today after leaving sections of the Atlantic Coast flooded from torrential rains and winds up to 60 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau reported Dora was 180 miles east of Norfolk, Va., and was moving away from all land areas.

While Dora appeared to be easing out of the nation's weather picture, unseasonably cold temperatures continued to chill most of the eastern half of the country.

Before she moved into the Atlantic, Dora lashed the North Carolina and Virginia coasts with high winds and torrential rains. One new death was attributed to the storm, bringing to seven the toll since Dora first struck the mainland in Florida last week as a hurricane.

As the storm moved out to sea, winds along the Middle Atlantic coast slowly diminished and were down to 35 miles an hour early today. Rains also were decreasing and were expected to end later today.

Colder weather spread from Pennsylvania westward to the Dakotas. Early today Phillipsburg, Pa., reported a frosty 23 degrees. At Jamestown, N.D., the temperature reading of 39 represented a drop of 43 degrees from Sunday's high of 82.

Grand Rapids Fire Jams 131

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An expressway traffic-jamming fire left damages of at least $250,000 at the Fruehauf Trailer Co. Service and Parts Division here today.

Fire Chief Adrian Meyers, who estimated the loss, said the fire sprang from a welding mishap.

Insulating material in a refrigerator truck ignited, Meyers said, and the flames quickly spread through the building on the city's near south-west side. One wall of the structure collapsed and the roof which sent up a thick column of heavy smoke.

Rush hour traffic on nearby U. S. 131 jammed up and police reported several minor accidents as drivers turned attention to the fire scene.

Garage and office workers at the trailer firm escaped the blaze after turning in the alarm, Meyers said. No injuries were reported.

Johnson Favored

NEW YORK (AP) — News-week magazine says a poll taken for it by Louis Harris showed women voters favor President Johnson's election over the Republican candidate, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, 64 per cent to 36 per cent.

The Harris presidential poll of men gave Johnson a 60-40 per cent advantage over Goldwater.

Executive Unit Members Named By Delta Demos

Ninety-two Delta County Democrats turned out for the largest Democratic convention in years at the Democratic Headquarters in Escanaba Saturday night.

Acting chairman Mrs. John Meier called the convention to order and Robert Olsen of Escanaba was chosen permanent convention chairman.

These seven members will serve with candidates Ann Villeneuve, for county treasurer; Cully Johnson, for sheriff; Nicholas Chapekis, for prosecutor; William Butler, for county clerk; Einar Erlandsen, and Dominic Jacobovitch, for representatives; and A. M. (Tony) Schneider for state senator, who, according to the new election laws are automatically members of the executive committee.

Following the general election Nov. 3, the Executive Committee will by law choose the county chairman, the vice chairman, and the secretary and treasurer.

The following resolutions were adopted:

1—The Delta County Democratic Party wholeheartedly supports the Democratic Party slate for all offices—national, state, and county. The Democratic Party recommends a vote all the way for its candidates.

2—The Delta County delegates to the state convention to be held in Lansing Sept. 18-19 are instructed to vote by the unit rule.

3—The delegates to the state convention are authorized to support any qualified high caliber candidates without further instruction except that the delegation is instructed to support the candidate for lieutenant governor as recommended by Neil Staebler.

4—The Delta County Democratic Party urges a concerted effort in voter registration, pointing out that while Delta County has approximately 23,000 persons eligible to vote, only 15,600 are registered. Effort must be made to persuade the remaining 7,400 unregistered voters to register with their local clerks before the Oct. 5 deadline.

5—All Democrats and other concerned persons should work toward defeat of the Massachusetts Ballot proposal.

6—Democrats of Delta County make known their opposition to the Two Year Registration Law.

Sleeping Sickness Worry Tops Polio

During the week ending Aug. 29 there were two cases of paralytic polio reported in the United States, but 355 cases of Primary Encephalitis (sleeping sickness) the Delt Menominee Health Department reports.

In addition to the two major outbreaks in Texas (Harris County-Houston, South Plains area - Plainview), there are known outbreaks in Illinois and Colorado.

Symptoms in the Illinois cases have been headache, lethargy, coma, pronounced nuchal rigidity and fever to 104° F. Transient paralysis of the facial muscles and extremities have been noted in Colorado cases as has ocular muscle weakness. All ages seem involved with a higher incidence and fatality rate in those over 50 years. There has been encephalitis involving horses in Colorado.

Doctors Counsel: Keep Red Cross Blood Bank Here

The following article on the need for Delta County's participation through the Red Cross in the Badger Blood Bank was written by Dr. C. J. Olson, Gladstone, chief of staff, and John F. Haines, associate administrator, of St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, which administers most of the blood provided by the blood bank in Delta County.

Occasionally one hears expressions of dissatisfaction against the Red Cross Blood Program. The public would unquestionably support this program wholeheartedly if it realized the consequences of losing a voluntary program and thereby forcing the hospital to purchase blood through commercial sources.

In April of this year, Dr. Roland Berry, our present pathologist, had occasion to write to the U.S. Senate regarding a proposed bill that concerned the exemption of blood banks from the provisions of anti-trust laws. In effect, the passage of this bill would have been detrimental to voluntary blood banks.

Dr. Berry wrote: "As a pathologist I am responsible for providing blood to sick people under conditions that will produce no added danger to their health other than that already present because of their various diseases. I am fully aware that blood is a complex substance and that there are literally hundreds of ways in which blood, transfused into a sick person, can become a threat to life rather than a means of improving the health of the patient."

"At the same time, I am fully aware of some of the problems which arise in such comparatively simple matters as the production of uniform glass tubes (as an example) by commercial manufacturers. In these comparatively simple matters, selecting a more competent manufacturer is relatively easy and checking the quality of the product is not difficult."

"If I were to be faced with the problems of accepting blood as a commercial 'product' and the problems of circumventing inferior 'products,' my service to the patients receiving blood from this (or any other) laboratory would be seriously limited, and the cost of insuring absolutely safe blood for transfusion would be considerably higher."

"Of paramount importance in the procurement of blood by a hospital, or hospital laboratory, is the quality of the procedure by which the blood is, (1) obtained from the donor, (2) processed, tested, and stored by the group obtaining the blood from the donor, and (3) the conditions under which the blood is transmitted to the hospital using the blood."

"High standards for each of these steps are provided by the American Association of Blood Banks and these standards are met by all non-profit blood banks that would be used by a respectable hospital or hospital pathologist. Since these standards are a prerequisite to approval by the American Association of Blood Banks, such approval is assurance of the highest quality of blood possible. Commercial sources of blood, unaffected by these standards, represent a greater problem than I would be willing to accept in securing the amount of safe blood needed by the various hospitals with which I have been associated."

In addition to the points discussed by Dr. Berry, there are other important advantages to retaining the Red Cross Blood Program. A patient from this area who needs blood, regardless of the locale of the hospital to which he is admitted, will receive blood through the Red Cross Exchange Program free of charge. Also, Red Cross maintains a list of voluntary donors who are willing to be called to the hospital in cases of emergency for the purpose of donating their blood.

Patients who have received Red Cross blood have, on occasion, questioned the hospital charges that are necessitated by the cost incurred in administering the blood. However, if the hospital had to purchase blood, the present administration and laboratory charges would remain the same but there would be an additional charge for the blood itself.

A volunteer program also provides an excellent means by which individuals in the community can demonstrate their good will toward their fellow citizens. What greater satisfaction could come to an individual than that derived from donating part of his life-giving substance to another human?

Thousands Enjoy Loggers Parade For Two Hours

The loggers have gone home and Escanaba has turned its attention to the sno-mobiles that it saw in their parade on Saturday afternoon on Ludington St. as the season now works toward winter, except for the weekend football madness.

The parade took two hours, lacking only three minutes, to pass the judges reviewing stand on Ludington at 10th St. and while there were some gaps and spacing the street throng of thousands was seldom without band music or the sight of huge trucks of logs, lumber, pallets, pulpwood or cedar post fencing.

Dominic (Doc) Massoglia of Laurium, acting executive secretary of the Timber Producers Assn. which staged the three day Lake States Logging Congress here, announced that the judges had named the following winners of parade honors:

Industrial Equipment Division: 1. Pettibone - Michigan Corp. of Baraga; 2. Escanaba Machine Co., Escanaba, and 3. Wright Power Saw.

Logging and Pulpwood Division: 1. Giguere Brothers of Escanaba; 2. F. P. Furlong of Newberry; 3. Luke Brothers of Amasa.

Lumber Division: 1. Pine Timber Co., Spalding jointly with Graham Trucking Co. of Brimley; 2. Abbott Fox Lumber Co. of Iron Mountain; 3. Guard Pallet Shop of Carney.

The drum and bugle corps were rated: Ishpeming Blue Notes, (Michigan champions) tied with the Belles of St. Mary's of Rhinelander, Wis., for first place; Hurley, Wis., Drum and Bugle Corps, second, and the Silver Echoes of Munising, third.

The parade was one of the largest ever held in Escanaba. It excelled in the large number of its junior drum and bugle corps and school bands, some small cities sending impressively large and well trained and

Mrs. Buermele Dies In Detroit

Mrs. Carl W. Buermele of 14134 Archdale Ave., Detroit, member of a prominently known Escanaba family, died Sunday at 7:30 a.m. in Ford Hospital. She had been ill the past several months.

Mrs. Buermele, the former Jean McArthur, was born in Escanaba and was a graduate of Escanaba High School. She had resided in Detroit since her marriage.

She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Fred Zutcher, Detroit, three sisters, Mrs. W. J. Vandewiele, Milwaukee, Mrs. Emerson B. Harvey and Mrs. Earl L. Taylor, Escanaba, and one brother, Byron E. McArthur, also of Escanaba.

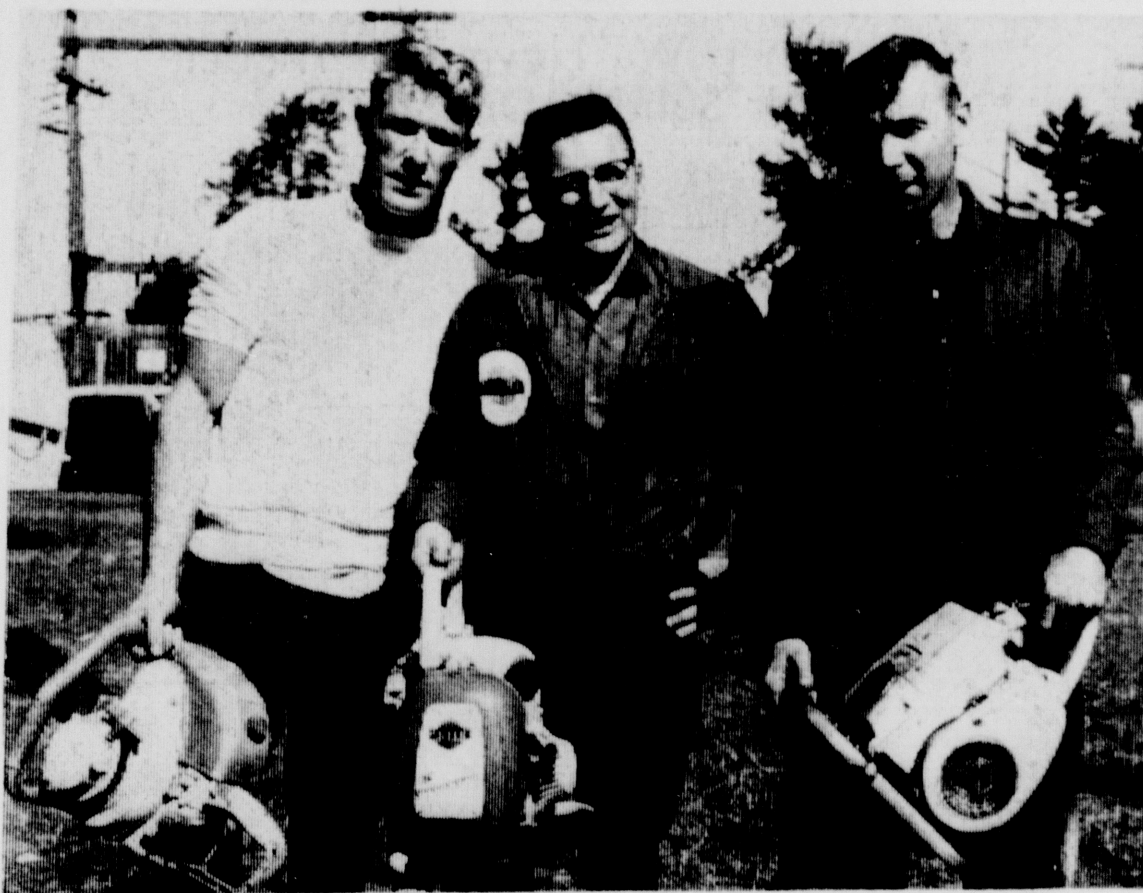

The funeral Mass will be offered at St. Monica's Church in Detroit Wednesday at 9 a.m. Burial will be in Toledo.

International Harvester tractor, to the Appleton Americano Drum & Bugle Corps, to timber homes, newly sawed spruce pulpwood and Pine Timber Co.'s freshly processed bright pine and hemlock with Kelly green ends.

Even Paul Bunyan would have been impressed with the number and variety and makes of chainsaws displayed. Some of the exhibits had sawyers cutting up logs as their trucks moved along and yet by some miracle the whole parade moved intact from the "Y" on Stephenson Ave. to Ludington Park. There were a few pauses, one of them caused by a truck operator's dash for a six pack, but the parade moved along well in the bright September sunlight.

Claude Tobin and Don Trotter were marshals of the parade and were assisted by Robert LeMire, David Vovos and Danny Tobin.

The variety ranged all the way from the Red Garter Girls demonstrating guitars on an equipment truck, to the K. I. Sawyer Air Base color guard, to Ed Marenger piloting a 1913

CHAIN SAWING champions of the Logging Congress are (from left) Ken Kelsel, Lake City, Class 1; Eugene Champine, Crandon, Class 3 and all around Lumberjack Champion; and Gary Bradley, Crandon, Class 2. Trophies were contributed by the Solo Saw Co., Al Young, Appleton, regional representative. One large award is a traveling trophy, three smaller ones are the permanent possession of the winners. No End Sighted Yet In Strike Of Detroit Dailies

DETROIT (AP) — The strike which has shut down Detroit's two major daily newspapers entered its third month Sunday with no end in sight.

State and federal mediators said they planned to call for talks early this week with striking Local 13 of the Pressmen's Union.

No negotiations have been held between the pressmen and publishers of the morning Detroit Free Press and afternoon Detroit News since Sept. 1.

The pressmen and Local 10 of the Plate and Paper Handlers Union walked off the job at both papers July 13 in a dispute over terms of a new contract.

Publishers and paper handlers spent a full day Friday discussing welfare and fund contributions and the costs of a fourth week of paid vacation before the talks were recessed subject to call by the mediators.

Education For All

Newspapers averagely are found on the side of advocacy of public schooling without overmuch inspection of the process or the product. In a world where there is so much to learn and such difficulties in learning it, schools are accepted as the simplest solution to most educational problems. They have taken over many tasks which were once regarded as the responsibility of the home. Driver training is a good example. They obviously do a much better job of it than dad used to do with daughter.

When public schools come prominently into the public eye—usually in the process of asking more money for their plant or operations—newspapers are usually to be found on the side of the advocates of the spending. They have individual misgivings about some of the things that schools do, or don't do, but they are convinced that public schooling is a huge and growing necessity and should be accepted in main part.

Critics of school spending are apt to lump the newspapers and other mass media on the bullseye of their criticism along with the schools and to charge that the "other side" isn't presented. Editorial opinion cancels out some of this criticism as not motivated by interest in education and its qualities and legitimate economies.

But there remains, even after such discounts, a legitimate area of inquiry into public schooling. This newspaper's comments on the need for support of schooling brought it recently a note from an Upper Peninsula industrial officer who wrote: "It is increasingly evident that Americans are becoming educationally oriented. But being typically 'American' we buy what we want on a wholesale basis and then determine our real needs."

He directed attention to "The Deadly Halls of Ivy" by Paul Goodman in Playboy Magazine (of all journals!) which dissents from what Goodman rates America's fetish for increasing doses of formal schooling for everybody. A usual case for a young American today, suggests Goodman, is that at 20 he has spent 14 years in school and never once seriously assigned himself a task or done anything earnest on his own initiative. "Our young man does not grasp that it (his study) is about something; it has no connection for him."

"Little of the teaching makes a student see the relevance, necessity or beauty of the subject... Mass culture, world wears, a largely phony standard of living rooted in status striving and material acquisitiveness, lack of community spirit; all these have torn the humanistic tradition to shreds. (I find these youths almost unteachable, though they are bright, eager and respectful, they simply do not dig what we academics are trying to say.)"

"The university has become nothing but a factory to train apprentices and process union cards for a few corporations and a few professions. Their needs predetermine what goes on."

"Paradoxically, a college is a poor environment in which to train apprentices—except in lab sciences, where one works real problems with real apparatus."

"If these 19 and 20-year-olds (collegians) were factory hands, nobody would fuss about their sex lives or drinking habits, so long as they arrived punctually at the plant the next morning. As students they are supposed to be the chosen of the land, the hope of the future, but they are not 'responsible'..."

"We should be experimenting with different kinds of schools, with no school at all, using the real cities as schools, or farms as schools, with practical apprenticeships, guided travel, work camps, little theaters, community service, etc. Probably most of all we need to revive the community and community spirit in which many adults who know something and not only professional teachers, will pay attention to the young."

"James Conant has estimated that only 15 pct. are 'academically talented' in 1900 only 6 pct. of 17-year-olds graduated from high school. We may assume that those 6 pct. were in classrooms because they wanted to be there. Who were the 94 pct. who didn't graduate? Obviously they were not dropouts. They were everybody."

"As the decades passed higher schooling began to be a mass phenomenon... By 1960 we see 60 pct. have graduated, of whom more than half have gone to college. Who now are the other 40 pct.? They are the dropouts, mostly urban-underprivileged and rural. From this group we do not much expect splendid careers in architecture, politics or literature. They are not allowed to get jobs before 16; they find it hard to get jobs after 16; they might drop out of society altogether, because there is now no other track then going to school."

"Hysterically since Sputnik there has developed a disastrous overestimation of studying and scholarship... an average unbookish youth finds himself in a bad fix. He may not be able to cope with the speedup and the strict grading, yet if he fails there are loud alarms about his delinquency."

"I asked the United Automobile Workers how much formal schooling is required for the average worker in the most automated plant. The answer was: None whatever. To put it bluntly, generally speaking it is not the fancy training that is lacking, but the jobs. For urban poor kids who are cajoled to not drop out, the miseducation is a cruel hoax. But of course there is no real choice. Poor people must picket for better schools that won't pay off. Farm youth must ride to central schools that are a waste of time for most of them, while they lose the competence they have..."

"Maybe the chief mistake that we make is to pay too much direct attention to the 'education' of the children and adolescents rather than provide them with a worth-while adult world in which they can grow up. In a curious way the exaggeration of schooling is both a harsh exploitation of the young, regimenting them, a guilty coddling of them, since mostly they are useless in our world and we waste them to waste their hours 'usefully.'"

As a substitute for so much schooling Goodman suggests "real activities"—work camps, community services, little theaters, apprenticeships, farm work, grants to individuals for educational spending of their own choice, etc.

Goodman ticks off some of the well known problems of mass education, an experiment to which America is committed in a historic way. The individualism which Goodman would encourage keeps dying, not growing. His wishful return to community living and use of community resources to augment the professional teacher is obviously desirable and schools have been trying to do it for years, with diminishing returns.

Schooling has become what it is because of insistence that in modern life they take on lots of instruction which was once regarded the province of the family. Goodman knows more questions than answers.

"... Then We Have This Model for Sunday Drivers."

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Bidding goodbye to Justice Department workers, resigning Robert Kennedy recalled the time of his appointment as attorney general in late 1960: "The appointment was greeted pretty wildly. It was hardly hailed by the bar. They said a lot of things—like I never tried a case."

"Well, now I have, if I should ever want to come back," Kennedy laughingly referred to his one-day appearance before the U. S. Supreme Court to argue for the government in a Georgia reapportionment matter. It was his only professional appearance as a court-room lawyer in his lifetime.

As severe droughts continue to plague many portions of his state, South Dakota's Republican Sen. Karl Mundt notes: "This makes Senator Goldwater a cinch to carry South Dakota. Nobody in the state is about to vote against anything with water connected with it."

Highlighting the ninth annual Lake States Logging Congress at Menominee and Marinette this week will be presentation of special awards of merit to outstanding leaders in the industry. Among these is Carl Sawyer of Escanaba.

The Eskymos, after holding the Soo Blue Devils scoreless most of Saturday's first game of the season, finally lost 6-0. Catholic Central took the measure of the Gladstone Braves 12-9.

Dr. James H. Fyvie, M. D., of Manistiquie, will serve in the House of Delegates, representing doctors of Delta and Schoolcraft counties at the annual session of the State Medical Society at Lansing.

Carl Brackett arrived here from Jackson, Miss., yesterday to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Brackett, who are soon to celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Emil Stenstrom of 1323 Stephenson Ave., returned home from a several month's visit with relatives in Sweden.

Alphonse Versure of Manistiquie won conspicuously at the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, winning first place with his showing of Rural Russets and also the sweepstakes honor for the best sample of 32 potatoes at the exposition.

The City of Escanaba is being divided into six districts in a determined war on rats. Boy Scouts will patrol alleys in certain parts of the city and distribute squill—a poison deadly to rats but harmless to any other pets. Of late the rodent population in the city has become a very vexing problem and it seems to defy solution.

Katzenbach has been a top prospect to succeed Robert Kennedy as attorney general. At the boy's query, he broke up.

Pierre's name was added to the bill as part of the Senate's traditional welcoming gestures to newcomers.

The Doctor Says:

Ray Of Hope In X-Rays

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q—What is xanthomatosis or Hand-Schuller-Christian disease? What treatment is recommended?

A—Xanthomatosis is a disease that starts slowly, usually before age 6. The distinguishing features are pinhead-sized yellow nodules of the armpits, inner surface of the elbows, neck and elsewhere. There is usually a slight fever and increased thirst associated with increased urination (diabetes insipidus). There is also a thinning of the bones of the skull, shoulder blades and pelvis.

Although spontaneous remissions may occur, the disease is progressive and the victim has a low resistance to infection. Deep X-ray treatments may slow progress of the disease but cannot be said to cure it.

Q—Would you recommend the measles vaccine for infants of 1 and 3 years? The doctors here do not agree on the proper age for this.

A—Unless your doctor has found some condition in your children that would make him wish to withhold the vaccine, they should take it. If all children over 9 months of age were so protected, deaths from measles would be eliminated.

Q—My daughter, 4, is in the hospital with erythema multiforme and Stevens-Johnson syndrome. Is this serious?

A—The Stevens-Johnson

syndrome is a very severe form of the skin disease, erythema multiforme. This disease is characterized by hemorrhagic spots, blisters and acute inflammation of the internal organs. There are many causes. Penicillin or sulfa drugs are often helpful.

Q—Would it be dangerous to have my two daughters' ears pierced? It is an old Italian belief that this is good for the eyesight.

A—Piercing the ear lobes of little girls and drawing a loop of thread through the wound every day for a couple of weeks is an unsanitary practice at best. It is amazing that so few girls get severe infections from it. The practice could not possibly have any effect, good or bad, on the eyesight. Now that ear ornaments can be worn without piercing the ears, there seems to be little justification for this procedure.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Child Burglary Gang Nipped In Huntington, N.Y.

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Police have broken up a child burglar gang led by a 12-year-old girl. The gang is accused of shoplifting, looting homes and destroying property for the past two months, for petty cash and "kicks."

The 11 boys and girls, all from fairly well-to-do homes, are 12 to 15. Suffolk County police said Friday.

Police said only cash was taken from the looted homes — with the money going for phonograph records, transistor radios, soda and candy. The gang also is accused of smashing mailboxes, windows and fences.

Police quoted the father of one alleged gang member: "They're really not bad. A bunch of them have been running up and down the streets, painting mailboxes and ripping up flags. I don't think it's any big deal."

Ingham County Prosecutor Will Seek State Post

LANSING (AP) — Ingham County Prosecutor Leo Farhat has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for state attorney general at the GOP state convention in Detroit Sept. 19.

Farhat, a practicing attorney since 1952, was elected Ingham prosecutor in 1960.

Farhat indicated that, if nominated, he will base his campaign on strong opposition and criticism of Democratic incumbent Frank Kelley.

Farhat said Kelley is particularly vulnerable because of "his record of bickering, obstructionism and political and personal antagonism toward Gov. George Romney."

Governors Elect Romney, Choose Mackinac Island

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan was elected chairman of the 1964-65 Midwestern Governors' Conference at the end of its two-day meeting Friday.

The conference also voted to hold its 1965 session at Michigan's Mackinac Island.

"I feel that the selection of Michigan is a fine tribute to the role Michigan has played over the last several years in helping to further the important objectives and functions of this conference," Romney said.

Romney, who had been vice chairman of the 12-state organization, succeeds Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison as chairman. Romney is a Republican, Morrison, a Democrat.

Ann Landers

Rent Yourself Out, Buddy Boy

Dear Ann Landers: I was very much interested in the letter from the man who described himself as 29, good-looking, and an engaging conversationalist. He wanted to make himself available as an escort, (to quality women only) for $30 an evening, plus expenses.

No doubt you have received a tremendous response from women who are interested in acquiring his services. As a matter of fact, I'll bet the gentleman can't possibly accommodate all of them. So, Ann, I would like to take the overflow, for $20 an evening, plus expenses.

I don't want to brag, but I have often been mistaken for Montgomery Clift. I, too, have a new car and well-cut clothes. The other fellow emphasized his intellectual qualities. I am more the physical type. I play a fine game of tennis and badminton, enjoy swimming and dancing.

I would, of course, be willing to cut you in for putting my letter in the paper and forwarding the names of the lone-some ladies. Thank you.—R. D. No. 11

Dear R. D.: Don't stand on one foot waiting for the names of the lonesome ladies, Buddy Boy.

I'll give you the same answer I gave the other jerk. Haul your gorgeous hunk of humanity over to an escort service and rent yourself out.

Dear Ann Landers: Often you print letters from mothers who rebel at the selfish demands of their married daughters. These mothers have signed their letters, "Exhausted," "Worn Out" and "Fed Up."

It's time you printed a letter suggesting that the shoe is sometimes on the other foot. I know, because I wore that shoe for too many years.

My mother lived three blocks away. She telephoned me at least four times a day. I can't count the times I walked into the house and found the phone ringing. Mother's first words were, "Where have you been? I've been trying for an hour to get you."

If I went to visit a friend, mother telephoned me there "to see how I was." She had me paged at church dinners, club meetings, and even in the theater.

Our family doctor told my husband the only solution was for us to move at least 1,000 miles away. My husband (who is a saint) was willing to give up a flourishing business and start again in a new city.

I know now my mother was a sick woman and that I was well on the road to being as sick as she was, but thank God I got away in time.—BLESSEDLY FREE

Dear Free: Volumes could be written describing the destruction of daughters—and sons as well—under the guise of "mother love."

Healthy love allows breathing space. It does not smother, demand or impose. The mother who has the respect and affection of her married children knows that love cannot survive in a clenched fist. It must be held lightly—in an open hand.

Confidential to UNGLUED FRIEND WHO WANTS TO HELP: Well, guess yourself together and urge her to go to her family doctor. If HE decides she cannot safely have another child, he will perform the operation in a hospital.

Confidential to TWINKLE TOES: You sound as if your brains are in your feet. I strongly suggest you dance yourself over to the high school principal's office and ask how you can get the credits you need for a diploma.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-Age Drinking," enclosing your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Third Vatican Council Opens

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI opened the third and possibly decisive session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council today and called on the bishops of the Roman Catholic Church to clarify their place in church government with regard to him.

The pontiff called this task of defining papal-bishop authority — an issue with overtones of Christian unity — the "weightiest and most delicate" task of the council.

He said it would complete the concept of papal primary elaborated at the last ecumenical council. He made clear that sharing of authority with the bishops did not mean a lessening of papal power.

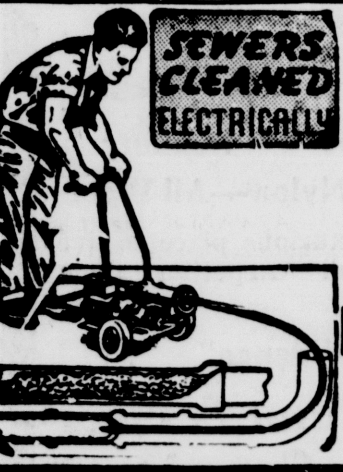

"As successors of Peter and therefore possessors of full power over the entire Church, we have the duty of heading the body of the episcopate," the Pope said. "Nevertheless our position in no way detracts you, our brother bishops, of your due authority."

"On the contrary we are among the first to respect that sacred authority."

The Roman Catholic pontiff chose for the reopening ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica a concelebrated Mass — said by himself and 24 of the 2,500 council fathers here from around the world.

New Skid Row Project To Be Tried In Detroit

By RON WILSON
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Skid Row has survived the surgery of urban renewal, but now the city appears ready to try some unique psychology on it.

In the works is a plan to provide hotel-like accommodations — not the flophouse type — for upwards of 200 men who've hit the end of the line.

It's described as a first-in-the-nation project and has the financial backing of Uncle Sam and the support of a host of Detroit city agencies.

The program's purpose will be the rehabilitation of many of the denizens of Skid Row — men trapped at the bottom by alcoholism and other problems.

Federal Funds Given
They would be housed in an old, downtown area hotel and would receive medical and psychiatric help, job counseling, spiritual guidance, and the like. The hotel is to be purchased.

The government, through the Federal Housing Administration, has granted some $250,000 to pay for the two-year pilot project, said the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement H. Kern, a member of the Mayor's Rehabilitation Commission.

Detroit would supply many of the services, he said, with such institutions as the city-operated Receiving Hospital playing a decisive role. Volunteers also would help out.

"We're looking for the guy on the bottom," Msgr. Kern said, and then he described the Skid Row man this way:

"He is the mental inadequate, thrown off the wheel, the hard-core alcoholic, and the man who gets trapped down there."

"There's a whole host of different kinds of people, including the fast-buck guys."

Agencies Promise Help
The soft-spoken priest, pastor of Most Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church, didn't use the word "research" in referring to the program.

"We want to see what can be done for the whole man," he explained.

If the project jells—and it needs only Detroit City Council approval now—the men would be required to pay a nominal rental charge for their rooms. Much of the other things they required probably would be taken care of by various city and state agencies, Msgr. Kern indicated.

A key factor here would be the cooperation of state and federal employment offices. Msgr. Kern said these agencies have expressed a real desire to pitch in.

Physicians and psychiatrists also would be important and in some cases hospitalization may be required.

For men desiring it, the counseling of clergymen would be available.

But the hotel is the pivot spot, the launching point for the rehabilitation program.

"Maybe we can talk some of these men into this kind of housing to get them started," Msgr. Kern said.

People Just Move
For 21 years the priest has tried to help Skid Row people. His church is just a few blocks from what had been Detroit's Skid Row.

About two years ago, he said, a group of citizens conceived the hotel idea. A year ago they stepped up their pace when Skid Row was demolished.

The Row—then mainly along Michigan Ave. near downtown Detroit—was torn down under an urban renewal program. Away went the flophouses, the blotter-like bars, and the ancient hallways and cluttered alleys where men often slept.

But Skid Row didn't die. It just moved, Msgr. Kern said.

He pointed out that many Skid Row people shuffled to other nearby streets—still not far from the downtown section—and now populate part of a neighborhood. Instead of being a strip, the Row has changed into a complex of streets which often overlap.

But what Msgr. Kern calls the dream—the hotel—is very much alive. He said a hotel has been chosen by the citizens committee.

The priest said the city council probably will be asked to act later this month.

If the okay comes, "we'd be ready to buy (the hotel) the next day," Msgr. Kern said.

Other cities will be watching with interest since, according to Msgr. Kern, the Detroit project will be the first of its kind in the nation.

Pension Package Sweetened For Auto Workers

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — An auto worker may in the future get within $36 of his weekly wage for not working at all.

The auto worker would be a man retiring at age 60 with 30 years service, earning the current average hourly wage of $3.01.

Also, he would be retiring after Sept. 1, 1965, under the new Chrysler Corp. agreement which the United Auto Workers hope to equal or better at General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co.

Ironically, that worker's pension would drop when he reached age 65 and began drawing Social Security benefits, but it was planned that way — to make early retirement attractive.

Earlier retirement (under 65) was a top goal of the UAW in this year's bargaining, which resulted Wednesday in the industry's first new three-year pact at Chrysler.

Maximum $400
UAW President Walter P.

Reuther argued earlier retirement as a means of getting older workers out of the plants and younger would-be workers off the streets. He said an incentive was necessary, and said he got it.

The company agreed to raise the base pension payment from $2.80 monthly for each year of service to $4.25, effective next Jan. 1, and the boost applies to present and future retirees.

Then, beginning Sept. 1, 1965, the company agreed to pay from its pension fund for anyone retiring at 60 an amount sufficient to bring benefits to 70 per cent of base pay, up to a maximum of $400 a month.

At age 65, however, when an employee would qualify for Social Security benefits, he would lose his pension supplement and revert to the straight $4.25 for each year of service.

A 30-year man then would draw a company pension of $127.50 a month, plus Social Security of $127 for himself and $63.50 for his wife. Totaled, he would get $318 a month.

Seniority Specified
If he retired at 60 and had been earning the average of $3.01 an hour, he would have been getting $337.60 monthly in company pension alone. He may get an additional $10 at 65 under Social Security if a pending boost finally passes Congress, but he still would have been money ahead to have quit at 60.

Any worker now would have the privilege of retiring at 60. Heretofore the normal retirement age has been 65 under mutually agreeable circumstances. Compulsory retirement age was and still is 68.

To retire, a worker must have at least 10 years seniority, and his combined age and years of service must total 85 before he can take advantage of early retirement.

It even is possible for a worker to retire at 55, provided he has 30 years service—or a combined total of 85—but if he quits then he is penalized 5-9ths of one per cent for each month retirement precedes age 60, according to Reuther's explanation.

In other words, the UAW chief said a man retiring at 55 can draw in company-paid pensions over 10 years what a 60-year-old retiree could collect in five.

The industry's Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—contend their average pay exceeds the $3.01 as figured for the automotive industry as a whole by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Reuther, who termed the yet-to-be-signed Chrysler agreement "the most historic in the American labor movement" with respect to pensions, estimated that the average 30-year Chrysler worker would qualify at 60 for roughly $381 a month.

Wife Locks Door, Spouse Smashes In With Truck

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When Robert F. Murphy's estranged wife refused to open the door, the 35-year-old San Francisco truck driver took offense, police said.

He smashed his pickup truck four times into the side of the house, finally landing in the kitchen.

Police booked the trucker for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon — the pickup truck.

HOMEMADE APPLE BUTTER—what could taste better? A food mill makes fast work of straining the apple pulp.

It's Apple Butter Time!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
The best brief description of apple butter making was once given by the late Irma Rombauer, creator of that treasure of a book, "The Joy of Cooking."

"How the stuff spits!" said she.

To Mrs. Rombauer, making apple butter conjured up "childhood visions of a brisk autumn day, a kettle hung from a tripod in the yard and be-aproned women bustling about taking turns at stirring the pot."

That was long ago. Today cooks make apple butter the easy way—in small batches on the kitchen range. Apple butter wouldn't be apple butter, of course, if it didn't spit, but low heat will keep down spattering. An up-to-date food mill does a good job of straining the pulp.

The friend who gave us the following recipe tells us that her children adore this homemade apple butter when it is spread over peanut butter or cream cheese in sandwiches to take to school. For after-school snacks, they like the apple butter on graham crackers.

In our household, we enjoyed the apple butter on toast. We also tried it another way: we added a little rum to a jar of it and used it as a fill-

GOP Convention Urges Action On School Problems

Delta County Republicans met in county convention at the Sherman Hotel Saturday night for the first time under new election laws with delegates elected in the Sept. 1 primary seated.

Atty. Arthur Neiman was elected permanent chairman of the convention. Mrs. Alcott Erickson of Gladstone permanent vice chairman and Mrs. Carl Olson of Gladstone permanent secretary.

State Senator Thomas Schweigert of Petoskey, GOP nominee for senator in the new 37th State Senate District said in a keynote address that this is an age of label pinning, and that the practice is hurtful to the Republican Party. "We are all Republicans," he said, and need no other label."

Senator Schweigert said that fiscal responsibility is the main difference between the two parties. He said that from his seat in the Senate he had seen Democrats vote yes on appropriations and no on tax to pay the appropriations.

He said that such examples of irresponsibility enabled the Democratic legislator to go home and say to his constituents "I am for my friends," no matter who he was speaking to.

"This does not make for sound government," said Schweigert. He urged support of the total Republican ticket, national, state and local.

Fischer Quints One Year Old

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—The Fischer quintuplets gathered around the family dinner table today for a slice of tasty white cake in celebration of their first birthday party.

The cake, decorated with the names of Mary Ann, Mary Margaret, Mary Catherine, Mary Magdalene and James Andrew, was donated by a bakery, in fulfillment of a promise made when the quintuplets were born to Andrew and Mary Ann Fischer.

The party was scheduled to be a quiet family affair.

It wasn't that the city folk in this prairie city of some 23,000 population wouldn't have created a lavish party if the Fischers had desired it.

Aberdeen, proud of its famous family, has adopted a grandmotherly, protective attitude toward the Fischers and refuses to intrude in the family's private life.

Plans for a big celebration were quietly dropped because Mrs. Fischer has a special birthday present for her family. She is expecting another addition, which is reportedly due any time from a few days up to two weeks.

Mrs. and Mrs. Fischer went for a ride Sunday and visited their new home, which is being built on the southwest outskirts of Aberdeen. They plan to move into the 20-room house on the 800-acre farm later this fall.

Historic Art Coming Here

A series of paintings depicting historic moments in Michigan from 1,000 B.C. to 1820 A.D. will be exhibited in Escanaba beginning Thursday under sponsorship of the Delta County Historical Society.

The paintings are the work of Robert Thom of Birmingham, Mich., noted illustrator, for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., who commissioned the artist to preserve on canvas Michigan's colorful and exciting past.

Nine of the 12 paintings have been completed and include subjects ranging as widely as a Michigan swamp in the age of the mastodons, an Indian village, the arrival of the Griffin in Green Bay, to the massacre at Fort Mackinaw. The Painted Rocks, raising the colors at Mackinac Island and other historic scenes are part of the series.

The paintings will be set up by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. in the lobby of the State Office Building by an arrangement of the Historical Society, which will also staff the exhibit.

The paintings will come here from Mackinac Island and will go from here to Sault Ste. Marie.

Pentagon Fires Man Who Won Top 1962 Honor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senior Pentagon official, fired last month after a probe of alleged irregularities in the handling of certain funds, was honored in 1962 with the Defense Department's "Distinguished Civilian Service Award."

Department files showed today that William H. Godel was given the highest honor conferred on defense employees, along with a citation lauding his "perceptive and imaginative contribution to a wide range of defense programs, and his selfless devotion to public service."

Godel, a Marine intelligence officer in World War II and a Pentagon employee for 12 years, was deputy director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency until he was removed from that $20,000-a-year post on Aug. 24.

The Pentagon said last week that Godel had been fired after being "served with a notice of suspension and removal" in July "on the basis of information developed through the initial investigation by the Department of Defense." He has appealed his firing.

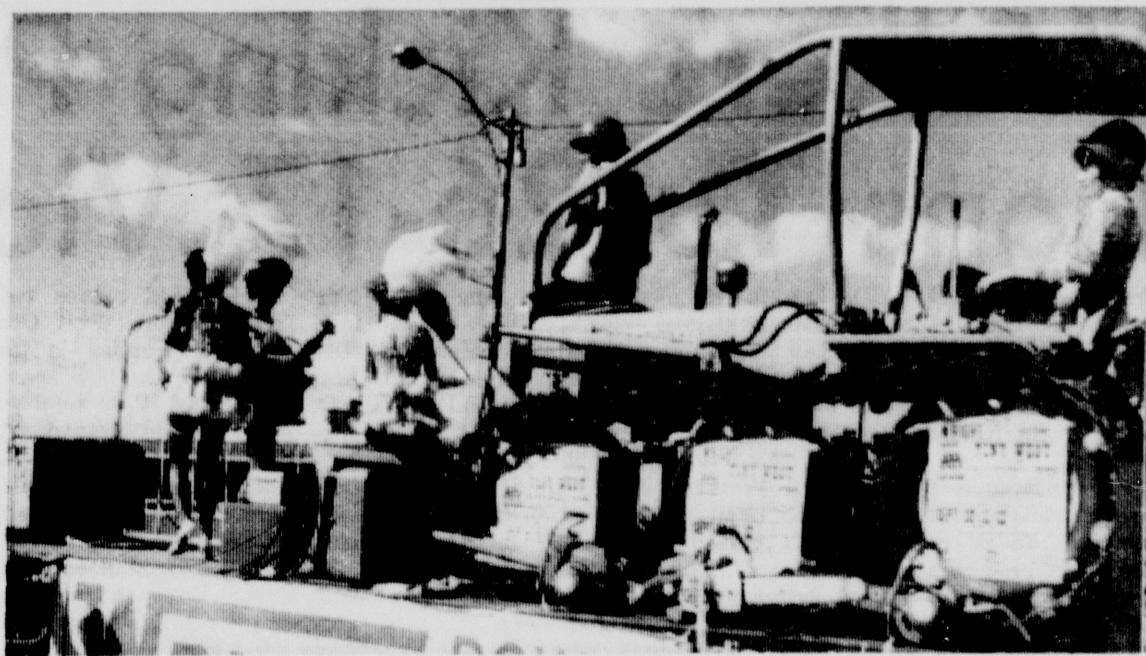

No details of the alleged irregularities, or any amounts involved, have been disclosed.

U.P. Gas Line Fight Resumed

BULLETIN

LANSING (AP)—A spokesman for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., said today he considers the Upper Peninsula a potentially profitable market for the sale of natural gas.

Hugh Daly, executive vice president of the utility, made the statement in a continuation of hearings before the State Public Service Commission.

LANSING (AP) — An eight-year fight over who should be allowed to bring natural gas to Michigan's Upper Peninsula resumes today before the State Public Service Commission.

Three utility companies are engaged in the latest round of hearings in the complex, extended battle. Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., the Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, Neb., and the Michigan Gas and Electric Co., are involved.

Michigan Consolidated and Northern have filed mutually exclusive requests to serve the western half of the peninsula. Northern filed first with the Federal Power Commission, while Consolidated went to the state agency.

Michigan Gas and Electric, which once had commission permission to service parts of the U. P., sided with Northern.

Michigan Consolidated stated its case last July. Its witnesses will be cross-examined in hearings this week, and other parties will be allowed to state their arguments.

WALLED LAKE (AP) — A roller coaster mishap at an amusement park caused injuries to a woman and two children attending the Detroit Police Officers Association annual picnic Sunday.

Police said a coaster car's braking device failed and the car derailed.

Mrs. Marilyn Moore, 34, of Detroit, was hospitalized with possible head and internal injuries. Cemie Benhart, 14, of Detroit, and Scott Brown, 11, of Pontiac, received first aid at the park for cuts and bruises.

Floods Kill 190 In South Korea; 231 Are Missing

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Flash floods and landslides in central regions of South Korea have killed 190 persons and another 231 are missing.

Nixon Will Work For Goldwater In 5-Week Tour

NEW YORK (AP) — On or about Oct. 1 former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will start an intensive, five-week campaign tour in behalf of Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential nominee.

"We've been swamped with invitations for Mr. Nixon and we're still trying to work out a schedule," a spokesman reported over the weekend.

Flaming 2-Car Collision Kills 2

FLINT (AP)—A man and a girl died today in a flaming two-car auto collision in nearby Clayton Township.

The victims were James Wilson, 30, of Lennon, and Sue Ann Frost, 16, of Clayton Township. Her mother, Mrs. Thiel Frost, 50, was hospitalized in serious condition.

Police said the Frost car burst into flames after the crash. Wilson was alone in his auto.

Northern charged in the earlier hearings that Michigan Consolidated had failed to ask the Federal Power Commission to approve its purchase of natural gas at the Wisconsin border from Michigan-Wisconsin Pipeline Co., which, like Consolidated, is a subsidiary of American Natural Gas Systems, a holding company.

It charged that consolidated was trying to play the state agency against its federal counterpart. Michigan Consolidated denied the charge and has since filed with the PC.

Upper Peninsula residents, meanwhile, have urged the commission to take the quickest action possible. The gas might add a needed spark to the area's lagging economy, they said.

Essential to the economic feasibility of either proposal are the six iron ore beneficiation plants of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Mining Co. and a plant of the Hanna Mining Co. at Randville. Potential suppliers have been angling to get the large-scale business of the two firms for years.

Michigan Consolidated signed a five-year contract with Hanna July 2 for 1.5 billion cubic feet a year. Hanna will be able to cancel, however, if the firm fails to get all necessary governmental clearance by Dec. 31.

Northern has been negotiating with both and hopes to sign Cleveland Cliffs soon, spokesmen said.

Michigan Consolidated is proposing to bring gas in at Menominee and run lines north to Powers, where they would split east and west.

The western leg would run through Norway, Kingsford and Iron Mountain, to Crystal Falls, Mineral Hills and Iron River. From Powers, the line would run east to Escanaba and Gladstone.

Northern proposes running its lines in through Ironwood, across to Marquette and up to Houghton-Hancock. The line also would branch off to the south to Stambaugh and Norway and run east to Escanaba and Gladstone.

Crewmen Flee On Raft As Ship Burns Off Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three crewmen were killed and 17 others escaped on a raft today when fire swept the Spanish freighter Sierra Acanzazu off the eastern tip of Cuba.

A Netherlands vessel, SS P.G. Thulin, picked up the raft 12 miles from the burning ship. Two crewmen were dead and another died as the rescue ship raced toward Mathew Town on Great Inagua Island.

The Coast Guard at Miami reported the Spanish ship was "burning uncontrollably."

Mathew Town has only one doctor and the Coast Guard said if other crewmen were badly hurt they would be airlifted to the U.S. Navy Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Musicians Of Peninsula Honor Escanaba Local

Members of the Federation of Musicians locals of the Upper Peninsula helped Local 663 of the Escanaba celebrate its golden anniversary here Sunday in a day-long program.

A conference of the U.P. locals opened at 9 a.m. at the Sherman Hotel with Locals 218, Marquette; 249, Iron Mountain; 276, Sault, Ontario; 593, American Sault; 523, Iron River-Stambaugh and 663, Escanaba, in attendance. Only U.P. local not represented was No. 39 of Menominee-Marquette.

The conference elected Orlando Sicoly of the Canadian Sault as president; Fritz Spera of Iron Mountain, vice president; Harold Hickmott, Canadian Sault, secretary-treasurer; and Stewart Richards, Canadian Sault as sergeant-at-arms.

The musicians lunched with their wives at the Sherman at noon and in an afternoon business session of the conference heard George Clancy, secretary

Nine Men Aboard Disabled Vessel Towed By Cutter

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Cherokee radioed today that despite storm-tossed seas it will try to remove nine men from the disabled freighter Globe Explorer, and resume towing the vessel to land.

The cutter, standing by the American freighter about 360 miles southeast of New York, radioed that the four crewmen and five Coast Guard men aboard were in no immediate danger.

The message said the fire that forced the crew to abandon ship Friday had not affected the seaworthiness of the hull.

The Coast Guard in New York said the Cherokee has been ordered to head for the Delaware Bay area to run behind tropical storm Dora, although Long Island is the closest land.

The Coast Guard cutter Owasco, which took 33 crewmen to New London, Conn., headed back to join the Cherokee, which reported 13-foot seas and a 25-knot wind.

Skipper Carl Jurgensen of Neptune, N.J., and the other three crew members on board had taken to lifeboats with the others Friday, but went back aboard Saturday when Cherokee began towing the ship to port.

of the International Federation of Musicians, New York City; George Butkis, Midwest representative from Minneapolis; Mike Werner, West Coast representative from Las Vegas and Hud Green, president of Local 5, Detroit.

President John DeChantal of Escanaba presided at the conference and Escanaba Local delegates were W. D. Ladouceur, president; Chester Marrier, vice president; Herb Peterson, sergeant-at-arms and publicity chairman, and Ray Cartwright, business agent.

Atty. Robert LeMire was the speaker at the banquet in the evening at the Teamster's Hall and he reminisced on the early years of the Escanaba Local and of his role in it. He joined the Local in 1932 when he was playing drums and running his own orchestra and he quipped that the minutes of the local would show that when he applied for membership he was accepted on a probationary basis until he could learn to play the drums.

LeMire introduced the dignitaries of the conference and George Clancy presented an award to John DeChantal, secretary of Local 663, from President Herman Kenin of the International Federation honoring Local 663 on its half century of service. Mrs. Marion Henriksen and Cecil Collins, who have served over 40 years were individually cited.

Yacht Racers Watch Dora

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Thousands of tourists watched yachtsmen and yachtsmen kept an uneasy watch on wandering Hurricane Dora on the eve of the America's Cup races.

Barring an appearance by the hurricane, America's Constellation and Britain's Sovereign were due to set sail Tuesday in the first of a best-of-seven series of races for the ancient trophy.

Monday's forecast calls for a 40-knot northeasterly blow, strong enough to cancel racing if it should continue into Tuesday.

In the event the hurricane should become an unwelcome guest here, the plan is to haul both of the costly 12-meter yachts out of the water as a safety precaution.

Besides the weather, the big question along the waterfront is, as it has been since 1851 when the United States first won the trophy, can the potbellied old cup be wrested at long last from America's grip? This will be the 19th time a challenger from Great Britain, Canada or Australia has tried to win the cup. None has made it yet.

Millions have been spent for defense of the cup and millions more to try and win it, but the cup has remained thoroughly bolted to a table in the home of the current possessor—the New York Yacht Club.

Walker's Kicking Paces Lions To 26-17 Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Detroit Lions coach George Wilson said last year he felt Wayne Walker could become one of the greatest kickers ever to play in the National Football League.

Wilson repeated his statement during pre-season training this year and added that it would take a player with a lot of other talents to knock linebacker Walker out of the picture.

Walker made his coach look good Sunday as he booted a club-setting record of four field goals and the Lions opened the regular season with a 26-17 victory over San Francisco.

Walker took over the kicking chores two years ago and, while leading the Lions in scoring, made good on only nine of 22 field goal tries.

Wilson persuaded former-Lion Jim Martin, who shared the former single-game field goal mark, to come out of retirement last year. The move made Walker more determined to keep his job as a kicker and this determination finally paid off. The Lions traded Martin to Baltimore and Walker hasn't been challenged since.

The Lions, who boast of having one of the best passing attacks in the game, did not score through the air.

Nick Pietrosante scored both of the team's touchdowns on plunges.

The Lions, who defeated the 49ers by lopsided scores twice in 1963, found the West Coast outfit a little tougher in their first meeting of the new season.

Detroit moved down field with ease early in the first quarter but had to settle for a 23-yard field goal as the 49ers defensive secondary came up with the big plays at the right time.

Then John Brodie connected with Bernie Casey on a 64-yard scoring pass to give San Francisco a 7-3 lead.

Walker booted his second field goal from the 15 yard line and Pietrosante bulled his way into the end zone from three yards out to move the Lions ahead midway in the second quarter.

Walker's third field goal, a 31-yarder, came late in the quarter and put Detroit ahead 16-7 at the half.

After Pietrosante plunged a yard for his second touchdown, the 49ers started an attack of their own and scored on Tommy Davis' 41-yard field goal and Brodie's seven-yard pass to Casey.

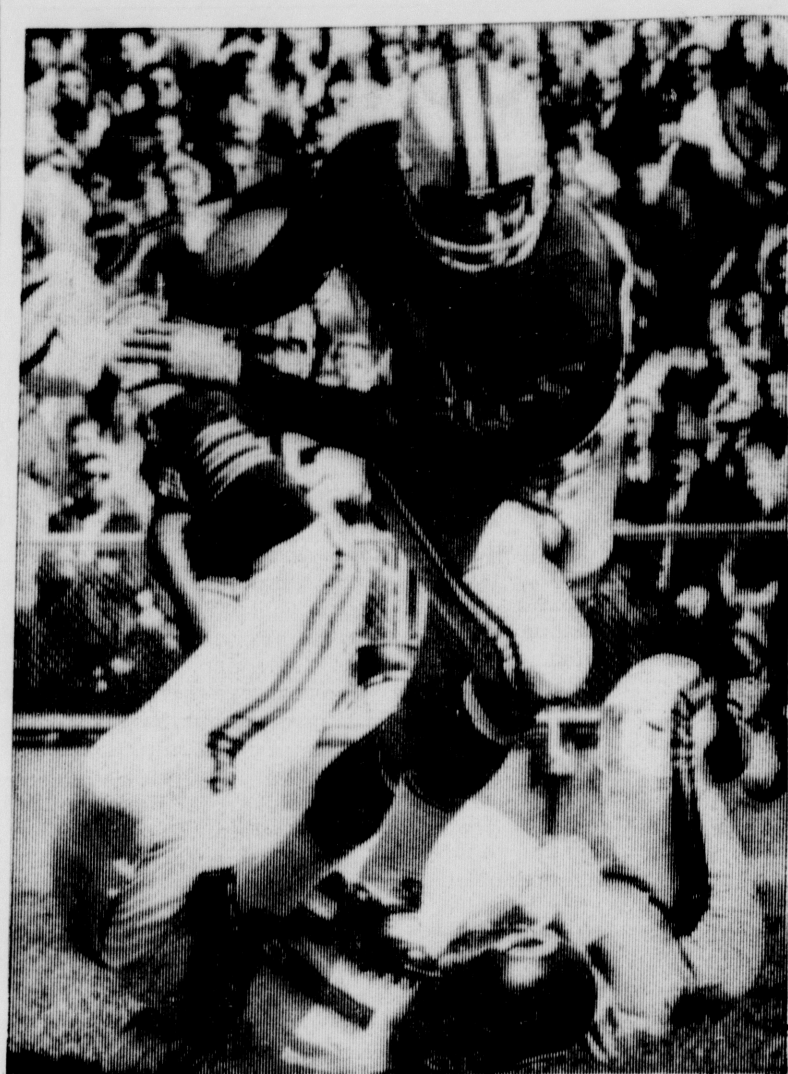

Brodie fumbled deep in San Francisco territory late in the game and the Lions recovered. Walker kicked his last field goal from the 25 yard line after the Lions were penalized 15 yards for holding.

Milt Plum went all the way at quarterback for the Lions and completed 15 of 34 passes. Terry Barr caught three of the aerials for 104 yards.

The Lions rolled up 138 yards rushing and added 234 passing, compared with 63 rushing and 138 passing by the 49ers.

The Lions will remain on the coast all this week and will meet the Los Angeles Rams Saturday night.

They open their home schedule against Green Bay Monday night, Sept. 28.

Pistons Have New Players

ST. CLAIR (AP)—Only four players who attended pre-season drills last year were on hand as the Detroit Pistons practice at the St. Clair High School today.

Forward Ray Scott was the only one of the four holdovers who was in the Detroit lineup that started the 1963-64 National Basketball Association season. Other pre-season returnees are Willie Jones, Jackie Moreland and Eddie Miles.

Coach Charley Wolf was taking his first look at four players picked up in off-season trades—Terry Dischinger, Don Kojis, Rod Thorn and Hub Reed.

Rounding out the camp are Donnis Butcher, Bob Duffy and Reggie Harding, all of whom finished the season with the Pistons, and rookies Jim Davis, Larry Phillips, Jerry Jackson and Ralph Telken.

Veteran Dave DeBusschere will miss the early drills until he completes the baseball season with the Chicago White Sox. Also missing is the club's No. 1 draft choice, Joe Caldwell of Arizona State, who is training with the U.S. Olympic team.

Grand Rapids Bows In UFL

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Indianapolis nipped Grand Rapids 20-17 in United Football League action when Ron Calcagno hit John Lands with a 16-yard touchdown play in the fourth quarter Saturday night.

Calcagno earlier hit Jim Banks on a 29-yard scoring pass. Former Michigan State star Roger Lopes had opened the Indianapolis scoring with a 16-yard run in the first period. Ed Chlebek of Grand Rapids hit on 25 of 43 passes for 229 yards and two touchdowns.

Record Crowd Sees Jets Win In New Stadium

By The Associated Press

The American Football League has opened its fifth season with the emphasis on attendance and the spotlight on Buffalo.

The major development of the four-game program was the record crowd of 44,497 as the New York Jets made an artistic and financially successful debut in Shea Stadium by walloping Denver 30-6.

The turnout was more than twice as large as any other ever to see the Jets in New York, exceeded the crowds at all but two of the National League's seven openers and pulled the AFL to a record attendance of 118,412 for its opening program.

Elsewhere, Buffalo's Bills won an opener for the first time in their history by crushing Kansas City 34-17, the Boston Patriots edged Oakland 17-14 as Billy Cannon played a secondary role for the Raiders and the defending champion San Diego Chargers defeated the Houston Oilers 27-21.

The Jets got the job done early against the Broncos. Bill Baird intercepted a Jacky Lee pass on the second play from scrimmage, returned 24 yards to the 26 and three plays later New York had a touchdown on Dick Wood's 16-yard touchdown toss to Gene Heeter.

When Jim Turner kicked the conversion for a 7-0 lead, only 3:04 had elapsed, but the Broncos already had too many points to make up.

Bills' quarterback Jackie Kemp fired 17 and 10 yard scorings passed to Glenn Bass and hit El Dubeon with a six-yarder in the first quarter against the Chiefs while Tom Sestak ran an interception back 15 yards for a score and Pete Gogolak kicked two field goals and four extra points.

The Patriots, defending Eastern champions but losers of all five exhibition games, moved ahead to stay in the second half when Babe Parilli hit Tony Romeo with a 19-yard touchdown pass and shot a 72-yarder to Art Graham. Gino Cappelletti's 48-yard field goal provided the winning points.

Oakland's Clem Daniels, the league rushing champion, was held to minus one-yard in 14 tries by the rugged Patriot defense.

Houston quarterback George Blanda completed 29 passes—13 to rookie Sid Blanks, who tied the league record for receptions. Blanks gained 131 yards on the passes and added another 53 yards rushing.

World Series Won By Lema

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Champane Tony Lema sipped his favorite drink, stuffed a $50,000 check in his pocket—thankful for the breaks which helped him capture the World Series of Golf Sunday.

The British Open champion struck a tree on one shot only to have the ball carom 100 yards farther down the middle of the fairway, and used a blacktop walk as a guide to an important par on No. 9. He boosted his lead over his nearest rival, U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi.

Going into the final round, Lema trailed Venturi by one stroke. Masters champion Arnold Palmer and PGA winner Bobby Nichols were never in the running as Lema fired a 34-34—68 for a 138 total and Venturi blew to a 38-36—74 and 143.

Nichols had a 36-34—70 Sunday for a 147 and Palmer, the pre-tournament favorite, had a pair of 74s to finish last with 148.

Venturi's share of the $75,000 purse was $15,000 while Nichols and Palmer pocketed $5,000 each from a swag which does not count in official earnings.

Track Records Fall In Trials

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This country's track and field athletes broke two world records, equaled another, matched an American mark, bettered the Olympic record in nine events and—as expected—stamped the United States the team to beat in Tokyo.

These were some of the highlights of the two-day final trials which ended Sunday in Memorial Coliseum before a crowd of 18,981.

Rex Cawley bettered the world mark in the 400 meter hurdles with 49.1, and Saturday Ralph Boston broke the listed record of 27 feet 3 3/4 inches by Russia's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan with a leap of 27 feet 4 1/4 inches.

Boston also had a leap of 27-10 1/4 but it was wind-aided.

Sprinter Bob Hayes, back in winning form after nursing a leg injury, equalled the American 100-meter mark at 10.1, and 30-year-old Mike Larrabee, a California school teacher, matched the world standard of 44.9 in the 400 meters.

Young Gerry Lindgren of Spokane, Wash., running the 10,000 meters for only the third time in his life, defeated America's best in the fastest time by an American this year, 29:02.0.

The 1,500-meter battle of sub 4-minute milers Sunday was won by Oregon's Dwylo Burleson in 3:41.2 as he defeated Chicago's Tom O'Hara for the ninth time in their 10-race series.

The existing Olympic records bettered were in 100, 200 and 400-meter dashes, the 400-meter hurdles, shot, discus and hammer, pole vault and broad jump.

Rare Free Kick Aids Green Bay Against Bears

By The Associated Press

Green Bay's new spread formation may have confused Paul Hornung, but he got a big kick out of it—and so did the Packers.

The Packers, who wrecked the Chicago Bears 23-12 Sunday in a significant National Football League season opener for both clubs, pulled a rabbit out of the NFL rule book in the process.

With time running out in the first half, Chicago punted to the Packers and Elijah Pitts called for a fair catch at his own 48-yard line. Green Bay coach Vince Lombardi then invoked NFL Rule 3, Section 11, Article 2, which permits a team, after making a fair catch, to attempt a free kick with no interference from the defending team.

The Packers lined up across the field in kickoff formation; quarterback Bart Starr spotted the ball and Hornung, after lining it up carefully, split the uprights.

The Philadelphia Eagles tried the same play in their opener against the New York Giants but Sam Baker missed a 47-yarder as time ran out in the first half.

It was about the only miss for the fired-up Eagles. They buried the defending Eastern Division champs 38-7 behind a blitzing defense that completely throttled Y.A. Tittle's passing attack and a balanced offense directed by newcomer Norman Snead.

Minnesota surprised Baltimore 34-24; Cleveland whipped Washington 27-13; Detroit topped San Francisco 26-17 and Los Angeles upended Pittsburgh 26-14 in Sunday's other openers.

The St. Louis Cardinals jumped the gun Saturday night with a 16-6 victory over Dallas.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Green Bay's Paul Hornung booted three field goals and sent veteran football observers scrambling for their rule books as the Packers belted the Chicago Bears 23-12 in a National Football League opener Sunday.

Hornung tied the Green Bay record with a 52-yard scoring kick with just eight seconds left before halftime. After Elijah Pitts called for a fair catch of a Bear punt, the Packers elected to employ a little used rule permitting a free kick. They chose a placekick.

Hornung, a former Notre Dame star who sat out last season for betting on games, played a key role as the packers launched their bid to regain the NFL title from the defending champion Bears.

Green Bay's other tallies came on passes by quarterback Bart Starr. Starr hit Max McGee with an 11-yard toss in the first period, and hit reserve back Tom Moore in the second.

The Bears replied with two field goals by Bob Jencks and a 13-yard touchdown pass from Rudy Bukich to Mike Ditka.

Rookies Star In Wing Drill

DETROIT (AP)—Roger Crozier and rookie George Gardner displayed some brilliant goal-tending in a 40-minute scrimmage by the Detroit Red Wings Sunday.

Only one goal was scored during the session, that by Parker MacDonald on a breakaway. The goal came against Garner.

Manager-Coach Sid Abel expressed pleasure with the skating of most of his National Hockey League players and had praise for a young line of Pit Martin, Larry Jeffrey and Bruce MacGregor.

"The three youngsters were really flying," Abel said. "Some 300 fans attended the scrimmage, a part of the team's regular two-hour workout."

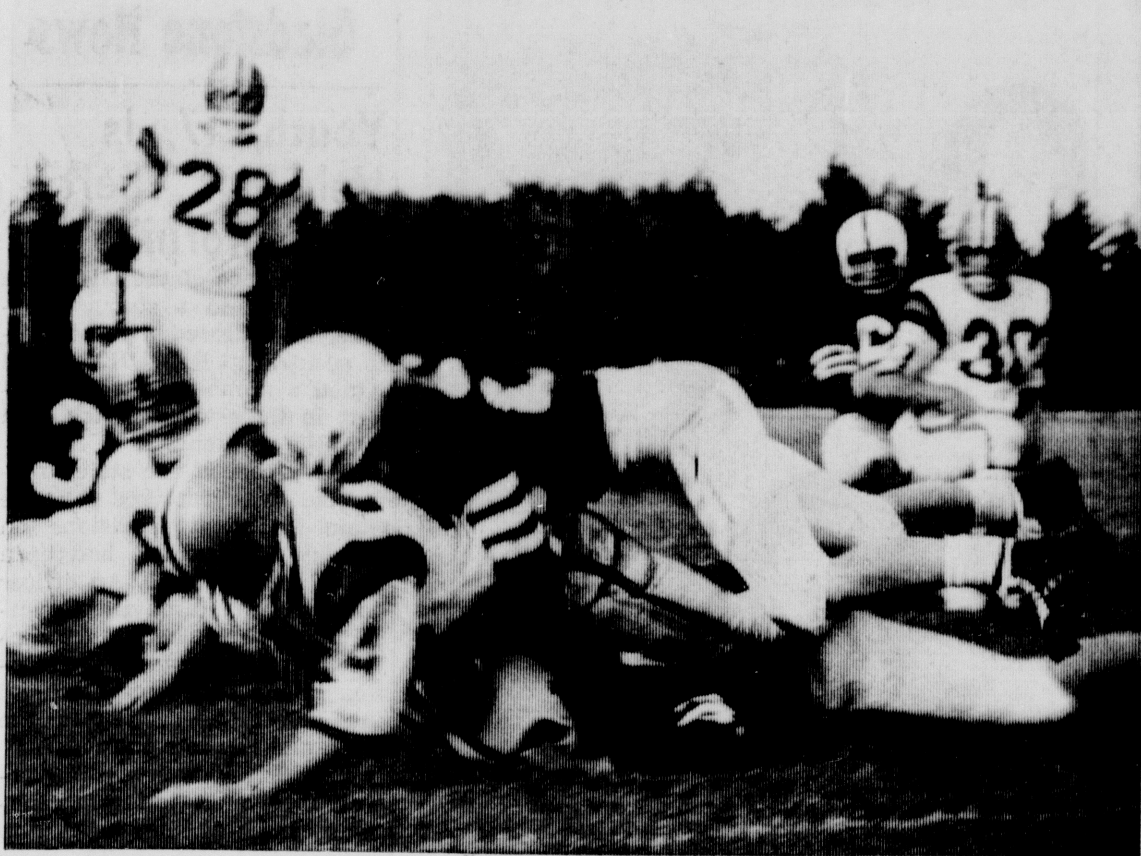

The Red Wings face Stanley Cup champion Toronto in the first pre-season game at Olympia Thursday.

"If the boys continue to come along this week the way they have so far, we should be ready to give the Maple Leafs a good game," Abel said.

Eskymos Roll Over Ishpeming By 25-0

The Escanaba Eskymos put their heavy football machinery into action here Saturday afternoon and bulldozed Ishpeming 25-0 in Great Lakes Conference action.

For Coach Jerry Cvengros' gridders it was the first victory of the season after an opening setback to Menominee. For Coach Bruno Marana's Hematites it was the second straight defeat of the campaign.

Fullback Jim Clairmont, 205 pound senior, put his patented power running on display for the home folks and impressed with a performance that netted 81 yards and two touchdowns.

The Eskymos mixed their "four yards and a cloud of dust" style with some first rate speed from the flying feet of sprinter Chuck Brookes. The senior halfback ripped off 115 yards in 11 carries and brought the fans to their feet with a 64 yard touchdown jaunt the first time he got his hands on the ball late in the first period.

Bob Haack made his debut as the starting left halfback and responded with a steady performance that produced 63 yards in 11 trips, including one touchdown run.

Starting quarterback Mike Gahner was spelled by Jerry Hanson who guided the Eskymos on one of their four touchdown drives. Hanson had been sidelined by a knee injury in pre-season practice.

Escanaba's heavyweight defenses held Ishpeming to 93 yards rushing and the Hematites were unable to penetrate past Escanaba's 20 yard line at any time in the game.

A major factor in Escanaba's domination of the game was blasting defense that shook Ishpeming runners loose from the pigskin six times, with Eskymos recovering five of the fumbles. They also intercepted one of Ishpeming's late desperation passes.

The Eskymos put points on the big scoreboard clock twice in the first period, once in the third and one in the finale.

Unable to move following the opening kickoff, the Eskymos punted from their 22 but regained possession two plays later when Clarence Willey fumbled on the Escanaba 28.

The Eskymos pounded out 72 yards in 13 plays with Clairmont and halfback Dave Boileau the big guns. Clairmont capped the march by slamming through right tackle, slanting left to the sidelines and churning 22 yards to make it 6-0.

Northern Bows But Tech Wins

By The Associated Press Sweetness was mixed with bitterness for Michigan's collegiate football fans over the weekend as four state teams kicked off their 1964 seasons.

Two won, and two lost.

On the sweet side, Central Michigan University downed Wisconsin State 13-7 at Saginaw and Michigan Technological University beat Superior (Wis.) State 7-0 at Houghton.

But State College of Iowa beat Northern Michigan University 14-7 and Findlay (Ohio) drubbed Hillsdale College 34-12.

Dick Smith and Bruce Wyman ran for CMU's two touchdowns as the Chippewas ground out 293 yards rushing, but only 35 in the air. Wisconsin's lone score came on a one-yard run by Vilnis Ezerins.

Michigan Tech took advantage of a blocked punt to break up a scoreless defensive battle in the fourth quarter. Tackle Charles Lucchesi fell on the with 3:48 remaining in the period.

After an Ishpeming punt, Brookes zipped through tackle, cut to the right and showed his heels on the 64 yard TD jaunt. Carl Olson's boot spread the margin to 13-0.

Escanaba controlled the action through the second quarter but couldn't score. Brookes fumbled on the Ishpeming 15 and another threat died on the 20. Clairmont recovered an Ishpeming fumble on the enemy 24.

ark Miller hopped on another Ishpeming bobble by Gary Laitinen early in the third quarter and Escanaba punched out 51 yards in seven plays, sending Haack over from the three yard line to make it 19-0. In the fourth quarter, Mike Olson and Bill Samowski covered a fumble by Ishpeming's Bruce Greenwood on the Hematite 46 to set the stage for the final Esky score.

This time they marched 46 yards in 11 plays with Clairmont banking over from the one to make it 25-0 with 6:20 to go.

Miller recovered another Laitinen fumble on the Ishpeming 28 but Clairmont lost it three plays later. Carl Olson snared a Bill Zhulkie pass late in the game but Ishpeming regained possession when Dennis Carlyon swiped a toss by John Ferrari in the closing seconds.

The Eskymos will be seeking their second Great Lakes Conference triumph Saturday when they invade Negaunee.

The Eskymo Jayvees also won Saturday, downing the Ishpeming junior varsity team 34-12 in a morning contest.

Ramos Continues Effective Mound Work For Yanks

By The Associated Press When he came to the New York Yankees last week, Pedro Ramos brought along his wide-brimmed stetson hats, black shirts with white mother of pearl buttons and tight black cowboy pants.

Ramos, however, apparently left something behind — his ineffectiveness.

The 29-year-old Cuban allowed only two hits in five innings of relief Sunday as the New York Yankees defeated Minnesota 5-2 and slipped into second place, one game behind Baltimore in the searing American League pennant chase.

The 10-year veteran has permitted just two runs in 9 1-3 innings of relief with New York. He was called on for his fourth appearance in eight games, when starter Whitey Ford was forced to leave the game after four innings.

Elsewhere in the AL Sunday, Kansas City trimmed Baltimore 7-5, Cleveland nipped Chicago 5-4, Boston edged Los Angeles 4-3 five. Tom Almonroeder's placement made it 13-0.

That set the stage for the appearance of the second and third string unit and Bricco's eye-popping running performance.

In addition to Bricco's contribution of 112 yards, the Crusaders got 81 yards from Tom Mein in 16 trips while Bill O'Connell added 22, Trotter 36 and Jim Shondonary 33.

The Crusader junior varsity team also opened the season with a victory, downing Stephenson 19-6. The Jayvees will host Menominee Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Holy Name school field.

The Crusaders will return to action with their first home appearance Saturday against the Menominee Maroons. Menominee will carry an undefeated record into the game at the Escanaba High School Athletic Field. The Maroons have scored victories over Escanaba and Marquette in their two starts this season.

Gladstone Rallies To Trip Newberry

NEWBERRY — Coach Don Pfothauer's Gladstone Braves wiped out a 7-0 first quarter deficit here Saturday to spill Newberry 27-14 in Great Lakes Conference action.

The Braves, entering the game with a deadlock against Norway in their opener, jelled into a solid unit to take the play away from the host Indians from the second period on.

Quarterback Mark Goodman fired a pair of touchdown passes to Rick Ebbesen and Mike Gobert in a deadly aerial attack while Jay Knutsen and Brian Martin slammed into the end zone to cap Gladstone's rugged ground game.

Gobert was Gladstone's main running threat, rambling for 111 yards while Martin added 46. Knutsen 25 and reserves contributed six for a total of 188 yards on the ground.

Goodman had a good day from his quarterback slot, clicking on five of nine tosses for 116 yards and two touchdowns.

Bruce Hardwick, 180 pound linebacker, spearheaded Gladstone's defense with 19 tackles. Dick Roman added 10.

Coach Ken Haggart's Indians opened the scoring in the initial frame when halfback Roland Robinson shook loose for a 45 yard touchdown run and added the point to make it 7-0.

The Braves untracked themselves in the second period to ram home three touchdowns. They struck first with a 30 yard TD pass from Goodman to Ebbesen and Jim Carlson's placement knotted the score 7-7.

When the Indians were unable to advance following a punt, the Braves moved in to score again with Knutsen jamming through the line from the one. Martin ran the point and Gladstone led 14-7.

Shortly before the half, Bruce Heslip blocked a Newberry punt and Goodman fired to Gobert with a 15 yard yard-off pitch to make it 20-7.

The Indians made their bid in the third period, driving the opening kickoff 50 yards with Robinson going over from the one and adding the extra point to cut their deficit to 20-14.

The Braves had their backs to the wall deep in their own territory late in the third period when Goodman hit Gobert on a pass play that covered 60 yards to the Newberry 10.

Gladstone hit paydirt in the early minutes of the fourth quarter with Martin plunging from the two. Carlson ran the point and it was 27-14.

The Braves will return to action Saturday in a home stand against the Manistique Emeralds who have won their first two starts over Stephenson and Munising.

Tigers Uncover Another Fielder But Lose, 5-1

DETROIT (AP) — If the Detroit Tigers are going to make any off-season trades, it seems apparent that they'll offer at least one of their center fielders to any clubs that will take enough time to listen.

While most clubs are happy to have at least one player who can play the position with any success, the Tigers are blessed with four.

The newest and youngest member of the centerfield quartet is rookie Mickey Stanley who made his major league debut Sunday as the Tigers dropped a 5-1 decision to Washington.

Stanley, a native of Grand Rapids, played left field in place of Gates Brown and admitted he was a little nervous.

"I'm a center fielder and never played left before," the 22-year-old Stanley said. "I asked Gates how he played the field and he told me. But I was still nervous for the first few innings."

The Tigers have used up their options on Stanley and will have to keep him or try to make a deal for him.

Don Demeter, Billy Bruton and George Thomas are the three players who have played center for the Tigers this year.

Bruton, who will be 35 this winter, is the oldest but a number of teams would like to have him around.

Stanley beat out a topped hit his first time up in the second inning, forced Thomas in the second and fled to left in the seventh.

"I've always said that he's the best young outfielder we have had in the minors since I started here," said Al Kaline.

But Stanley concedes that if he is to make it in the majors he'll have to brush up on his hitting. He's taken steps to improve by moving closer to the plate and using a heavier bat.

The Tigers scored their only run off Claude Osteen in the second inning on first baseman Demeter's double and a single by center fielder Thomas.

The would-be rally ended when Thomas was doubled off second base after Chuck Hinton caught Dick McAuliffe's singing pop fly in left.

Don Lock and Don Zimmer paced the Washington attack as the Senators won their first game over the Tigers in their last ten meetings.

Lock touched Detroit starter Phil Regan for a pair of solo homers, while Zimmer had four hits and drove in two runs.

Old Man On Raft Crosses Pacific

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—William Willis has proved once again that an old man can beat the sea. The 71-year-old American adventurer completed a 10,000-mile two-stage solo trip across the Pacific on a raft. He said the exploit nearly killed him. "I was at the point of death many times," the bearded New Yorker reported after he beached his raft Age Unlimited at Tully, 1,150 miles north of Brisbane. He had set out from Peru on July 4, 1963. "I came in on my last set of nerves," said Willis. "The weather was extremely bad and I had many catastrophes. I think a vertebra in my back is broken."

Rudder Smashed

Willis, who sailed from Peru to Samoa on a balsa raft in 1954, started his second transpacific voyage last year "to show that a man past 65 is still in the running if he wants to be." For his second trip he used a steel raft 33 by 18 feet, equipped with three self-sealing pontoons, one fore and two aft. With a hand-cranked radio transmitter he occasionally was able to communicate with passing ships. When his rudder was smashed off Samoa last November, he went home to New York while repairs were made. He flew back to Samoa in June and resumed his voyage. He injured his back Aug. 6 off the New Hebrides. "I was taking in sail when the ropes on a block gave way," he reported. "The ropes were rotten. I crashed into an iron jib boom and hurt my back. "I had two sails up and was unable to take them down. One, the mainsail, was ripped to pieces. I was able to crawl to my cabin to get food and water."

For six days, Willis said, he was paralyzed from the waist down. To keep from being washed overboard by the pounding seas, he lashed himself to the deck. Spotted By Teacher In this condition he took pictures of himself by movie and still cameras, to show doctors and use on lecture tours. Willis hit the shore among mangroves between the mouths of the Tully and Murray rivers at 11 a.m. Wednesday. He sent up rockets to attract attention but without success. Finally he left his raft and walked two or three miles to the mouth of the Tully River. Hank Penning, a schoolteacher, spotted the long-haired figure on the opposite bank at 4:30 p.m. "I had no idea who it was," Penning said. "But I could see that he wanted help. I took a boat and went across to him. He put out his hand and said, 'I'm Willis from New York.' "Penning took Willis home for dinner. "He waded through a huge meal," the teacher said.

Godfrey Erickson, Former Resident, Dies In Kenosha

Godfrey Erickson, 67, of Kenosha, Wis., a former Gladstone resident, died suddenly at his home Saturday. Mr. Erickson was employed by the Marble Arms Corp., while living in Gladstone and retired two years ago after working at American Motors in Kenosha for 30 years. Survivors include his wife, Leta, a son, William of Kenosha; and two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Carlson of Gladstone and Mrs. Hulda Laufenberg of Tucson, Ariz., who is visiting in Gladstone. Both sisters left Gladstone today to attend funeral services Tuesday in Kenosha.

Power Built Up For Spacecraft's 19 Experiments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Space scientists have acted to boost the power level of the orbiting OGO 1 space laboratory by turning its solar panels 42 degrees to an angle that will enable it to absorb more solar energy. The Goddard Space and Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md., commanded OGO to turn Friday after radio signals from the craft weakened considerably. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the satellite continues to send data and respond favorably to ground commands. Since its launching a week ago, 19 of OGO's 20 experiments have functioned. Scientists plan to experiment for the next few days before trying the 20th experiment.

Youth, 17, Is Held For Theft Of Motorbike

State Police of the Gladstone post received a stolen motorbike, investigated a minor auto accident at Rapid River, and issued a number of traffic tickets in their work in the area over the weekend. The report of the stolen motorbike was received by the State Police at Gladstone on Sunday. The vehicle had been stolen in Marquette. An officer on patrol in Masonville Township slowed to check on a motorbike answering the description of the stolen machine and the driver swerved into the ditch and ran into the woods. The driver escaped, apparently received a ride from a motorist, and was later taken into custody by Marquette State Police. He is Jeffrey Hoveland, 17, of the K. I. Sawyer Air Base. State Police said that Hoveland was implicated in entering two cabins in Masonville Township. The incidents are under investigation. State Police reported that at 2:45 a.m. Sunday two cars were involved in a minor collision at Rapid River. Fishing Project Assigned Officer By Federal Govt.

Glen W. Flichman, a newly hired member of the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries research team, will be stationed in the Marquette Biological Station of the U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Flichman has contacted UPCAP, and the UPCAP Commercial Fisheries Committee, which has taken an interest in this project and now feels a responsibility to see that the project moves forward rapidly flows into the directions which are most productive for out point of view.

Flichman is a native of St. Louis and a graduate of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture. He has been working as an inspector in the Booth Fisheries, St. Louis.

"It is obvious that he has the kind of practical experience that should enable him to do the kind of practical work which will be most beneficial to the future development of the commercial fisheries in the Upper Peninsula," says Dr. Bert Bowden, director of UPCAP.

"For the next two or three weeks Flichman will be traveling throughout the Upper Peninsula, and the Lake Superior shoreline area of Wisconsin and Minnesota, which are also included in this project. He wants to find out what is being done in the general area of catching, landing, and processing various kinds of fish. He is particularly interested in the kinds of processing equipment, and the equipment for handling the fish as they are caught and brought ashore.

"After his exploratory tour, he expects to choose a limited number of spots in which intensive development seems most likely to be fruitful, and to concentrate his energies in these areas in the beginning. As he discovers practical ways of strengthening the economies of commercial fisheries in these most promising areas, he will be able to spread effectiveness out over wider areas, or at least this is his hope. I don't think we are going to have any difficulty coordinating closely the activities of the UPCAP Commercial Fisheries Committee with the activities of Mr. Flichman. I am very very happy that he is now stationed in the area, and beginning to take an active role in this overdue project.

"He is planning to participate in the UPCAP quarterly meeting Friday Sept. 18, at Marquette and to work with the representatives of the Commercial Fisheries Committee at that time.

MARQUETTE — The fatal shooting of a sergeant at the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base on Aug. 29 followed a long night of drinking, according to testimony given here.

Eight persons were called to the witness stand in the preliminary examination of Billy Gene Berry, 30, charged with first degree murder in the death of his brother-in-law, S. Sgt. Allen V. Clinton, 28.

The examination, conducted in Marquette Municipal Court before Municipal Judge Edward H. Dembowski, was to resume with the calling of two other witnesses — Gladys Clinton, widow of the sergeant, and State Police Trooper Lloyd I. Hallman of the Marquette post, who investigated the case.

Following completion of testimony, Judge Dembowski can bind the defendant over to circuit court for trial if he believes there is sufficient cause.

The investigation was started two weeks ago and was climaxed this week with the apprehension of the 13 females, who are charged with larceny (shoplifting) and receiving stolen goods.
